

One-page editorial briefing

Information in this report as of 3 October 2026

Two people describe disputes with Intrixo about working hours, wages and settlement after employment. Each case has its own documents, chronology and questions requiring clarification.

Worker 1

A dispute over the obligation to calculate gross wages from 6 May 2022, guaranteed hours, and reconciliation of payments and deductions.

Status described in the report: The report provides no independently confirmed final balance. The disciplinary decision of 29 June 2026 was published on 31 July 2026. According to the authors, an appeal was lodged; its outcome and finality remain unconfirmed.

Questions to resolve: Was the complete gross-wage calculation from 6 May 2022 provided? How were payments and deductions allocated, and how was the advance accounted for separately?

Worker 2

A separate dispute over scheduling under a 32-hour guarantee, negative balances and deductions, 61.11 hours of leave, and the final settlement.

Status described in the report: The public timeline describes SNCU closing the report on 20 January 2026 and Juridisch Loket recommending a lawyer on 14 February 2026. These events do not settle the pay dispute; no later final outcome has been confirmed here.

Questions to resolve: How were guaranteed hours, corrections, leave and the final balance calculated? What justified the deductions and SNCU closing the report?

Official anonymized decision — ECLI:NL:TADRSGR:2026:166

Summary and status · Evidence index

This summary uses published descriptions. Its preparation date does not represent a fresh review of private records. The general source-verification date remains 11 July 2026; later information carries its own dates and attribution.

This report presents documents, positions and questions for review. It does not establish a final balance or liability. Private records are shared individually through a previously agreed contact channel.

<https://damian545-dj.github.io/raport-publiczny/en/media.html>